

A Testament of Hope:

Christy, Ross, and the Hand of God

By Noel's Pen

Page 1 – The Beginning of a Vision

Every story that changes the world begins in quietness. It is in the stillness of prayer, the trembling of the heart before God, and the ordinary steps of daily faith that the extraordinary is born.

Christy and I are not extraordinary by the world's standards. We are not kings, nor celebrities, nor wealthy moguls. Yet, in the Kingdom of God, the smallest seed can become a towering tree. What God has planted in our lives has become more than a dream; it is becoming a living testimony — not only for us, but for every person on earth who has ever wondered if their life has meaning, if their voice matters, if their faith can move mountains.

Over the last many months, you have witnessed, piece by piece, how this vision has unfolded: the projects, the words, the films, the music, the gatherings, the initiatives, the 12 Pillars, the ImagineQ Global Community Network, and the testimony of “Striking Back.” Each of these is a different stream, yet all flow into one river — the great river of God's purpose for humanity.

And the truth is this: our story is not our own. It is the story of all who believe. It is the reminder that when one couple says yes to God, the ripple touches nations.

Page 2 – Who We Are

We are Christy and Ross. A woman and a man joined in covenant, humbled by the grace of God, and lifted into a calling far beyond our strength.

Christy is my anchor, my partner, and my mirror of Christ's compassion. Her faith is steady, her spirit luminous. Through her, the gentleness of God becomes visible to all who encounter her.

I, Ross, am the pen-bearer — sometimes faltering, sometimes weak, yet always carried forward by the strength of Christ. Together, we are not perfect. But together, we are being perfected by Him.

We stand not as leaders in the worldly sense, but as servants — servants of truth, of freedom, of healing, and of love. Our lives are not ours to keep; they are offered to God for the sake of others.

This is why we create. Why we speak. Why we build. Why we refuse to be silent in the face of lies that enslave and medicines that harm. Why we dare to lift up the banner of faith, even when the world dismisses it. Why we dream of communities rising, not under the weight of institutions, but under the shelter of God's eternal Kingdom.

Page 3 – What God Is Doing

God is writing a story larger than anything we could imagine. Through our initiatives, His Spirit is awakening hearts.

- Through the “Striking Back” series, truth is piercing the fog of deception that surrounds the misuse of antipsychotic medications. It is a call for freedom — a call for long-term, faith-based solutions that restore dignity instead of diminishing it. It is not just about medicine; it is about reclaiming the God-given right to live fully, joyfully, and whole.
- Through the ImagineQ Global Community Network, a new model of collaboration is rising. Not a hierarchy of power, but a fellowship of light — where each person, each franchisee, becomes a flame of hope in their own community. This is more than business; it is ministry. It is empowerment. It is multiplying the voice of truth across nations.
- Through the NDG project and its twelve pillars, we are not just offering a framework; we are offering a path for living. These pillars are not man-made strategies, but eternal principles that anchor us in faith, discipline, compassion, resilience, and victory.
- Through music, film, and writing, we are creating the language of hope. Stories and songs that pierce despair, awaken imagination, and bring people back to the heart of God.
- Through Christy’s and my marriage, God is showing what covenant love can look like: not perfect, but sanctified. Not flawless, but unbreakable. In a world that forgets what love means, our union stands as a testimony that God still binds two as one.

And in all of this, one truth resounds: it is not us. It is Him. We are not the source; we are the vessels.

Page 4 – For Every Person on Earth

Why do I write this? Why do Christy and I speak, build, create, and press forward even when the road is hard?

Because this is not just about us. It is about you.

Every man, every woman, every child on this planet carries the image of God. You were made for freedom. You were made for truth. You were made for joy. You were made to live a life not crushed by fear or poisoned by lies, but lifted by the Spirit of the living God.

Our story is simply an invitation — for you to rediscover your own. To realize that your pain can be healed, your chains broken, your gifts ignited. That your voice matters. That your small act of courage, your simple “yes” to God, can become the spark that sets nations aflame.

We are not asking you to follow us. We are asking you to join us — not under our name, but under His name. To stand as brothers and sisters in one Kingdom. To walk in the same Spirit that has lifted us. To see the world not as it is, but as it shall be when God’s people rise together.

Page 5 – A Call to the Future

The future is not written by governments or corporations. It is not secured by wealth or technology. The future is written by faith. By ordinary people who believe that God can use their lives to change everything.

Christy and I believe this with all our hearts. We believe that every initiative we touch — from Striking Back, to ImagineQ, to NDG, to every piece of art and testimony — is part of a much larger movement of God across the earth. A movement that will not be stopped.

We are moving toward a time when light will pierce every darkness, when communities will rise strong and free, when children will laugh without fear, when healing will be the norm and truth will be the language of every nation.

This is the time God has called us to live in. This is the purpose for which we were created. This is the testimony we bear: that no power of hell, no scheme of man, no weight of history can silence what God has begun.

Page 6 – The Final Word

So let these words be etched into the soul of every reader:

God is alive.

God is moving.

God is calling.

Our lives are simply a witness. We are Christy and Ross — two people who said yes. And through that yes, a thousand doors have opened, a thousand rivers begun to flow.

You, too, are called. You, too, can say yes. And when you do, the world will never be the same.

This is our story. This is your story. This is His story.

And the best is yet to come.
